	Key features	Key benefits
Structure	Successful candidates receive two awards; an accredited qualification, regulated and recognised by Ofqual in England & Northern Ireland. Also City & Guilds grant a second award and appropriate post nominals can be used.	The PRAs offers the opportunity to gain an accredited qualification which recognises experience and expertise in any chosen vocational field. The qualifications also provide a progression route from a Level 4 to a Level 7 qualification, assessing the candidate's ability within their professional field. Successful candidates are also granted appropriate post nominals (LCGI, AfCGI, GCGI or MCGI).
Assessment	To achieve a Professional Recognition Award the candidate must provide evidence of their competency for each standard which is assessed by an approved centre & then verified by City & Guilds experts.	A piece of evidence may be used to cover more than one of the standards. The standards can be met collectively and holistically, rather than one by one. A comprehensive list of the types of evidence accepted is available via the qualification handbook on the website.
Support	Support materials include a Qualification Handbook, online resources at the dedicated webpage, and our e-portfolio Learning Assistant.	Learning Assistant helps save time and money by increasing learner completion rates by up to 40% over paper delivery. Personal support is available from the largest team of subject specific Quality Consultants, our Customer Relations Team and dedicated Business Managers. Support materials, such as examples of candidates' evidence and support documentation can guide both the centre and candidate through the process.
